9/11: Press for Truth is an unblinking examination of the failure of the 9/11 Commission and the press to adequately address many troubling questions that still haunt the families, five years after that tragic day.

A story of the fight for truth by those closest to the tragedy, and a scathing critique of the mainstream media, which refuses to connect the dots.

"Phenomenal! Stunning! Unbelievable!" - Randi Rhodes, Air America

9/11: Press For Truth is a powerful new documentary that chronicles the battle for truth and accountability waged by the families of 9/11 victims against the deception and stonewalling of the Bush administration. The film will premiere in Portland on Sunday, September 10, 2006 at Cinemagic (SE 20th and Hawthorne) in a special program starting at 1pm. The free premiere, hosted by the PDX 911 Truth Alliance, will also feature video of presentations from 9/11 & the Neocon Agenda: Facing the Facts. Portions of this conference appeared on C-Span's "American Perspectives" in August.

The national DVD release of the film on September 5, 2006, will be followed by New York City screenings September 7, 8 and 10 and nationwide screenings in 23 cities including Portland over the 9/11 memorial weekend. Distinct from the crowd of recent films featuring conspiracy narratives and mind-numbing replays of the catastrophic images of the day, 9/11: Press for Truth is an unblinking examination of the failure of the 9/11 Commission and the press to adequately address many troubling questions that still haunt the families, five years after that tragic day.

Directed by Ray Nowosielski, 9/11: Press For Truth features exclusive interviews with the families of 9/11 victims, including the "Jersey Girls" and 9/11 researcher Paul Thompson, author of The Terror Timeline. Called the antidote to the tragically compromised 9/11 Commission Report, The Terror Timeline pieces together stories from over 7,000 media reports about 9/11 to provide answers. In the film, Thompson fills in the gaps of mainstream media coverage, presenting little known published reports that, woven together, put the lie to the "official story" of 9/11. Polls now show that a majority of Americans support a new investigation.

"Once again," says producer Kyle Hence, "the 9/11 families will play a crucial role in galvanizing the public's will to confront a combative administration, a pliant Congress and an apathetic media corps that has studiously avoided dealing with countervailing facts, inconvenient evidence and excessive secrecy. The message these families bring must be heard, loud and clear. They deserve answers."

A lobbying campaign calling for a new investigation will be launched on September 5th, the day of DVD release, and continue into the week of September 11th, during which every member of Congress will receive a copy of the documentary.
